

Daytime - from 10.00am

Armchair Travellers:

Lilian Chee (National University of Singapore)

Tamar Garb (University College London)

Susanne Isa and Simon Herron (The Bartlett, UCL)

Speakers:

Simon Bradley (Yale University Press)

Chloe Chard (Independent)

Robert Harbison (London Metropolitan University)

Barbara Penner (The Bartlett, UCL)

Victoria Perry (The Bartlett, UCL)

Jilly Tragannou (Parsons New School for Design)

Respondents:

Stephen Bann (University of Bristol)

Jan Birksted (The Bartlett, UCL)

Tim Edensor (Manchester Metropolitan University)

Jane Rendell (The Bartlett, UCL)

Evening - from 6.30pm

Booklaunch:

Barbara Penner

Newlyweds on Tour:

Honeymooning in Nineteenth-Century America

(University Press of New England)

Booklaunch:

Jilly Traganou and Miodrag Mitrasinovic (editors)

Travel, Space, Architecture

(Ashgate Publishing)

Exhibition Opening:

Nina Vollenbröker and James Santer

Borderlands - Gas Food Lodging

Food and drink will be provided. All welcome!

architecture & travel: perception, attraction, mobility

Friday, 23 October 2009. 10.00am - 8.00pm

Room G02, The Bartlett School of Architecture, UCL

Wates House, 22 Gordon Street, London, WC1H 0QB

Organizers: Anne Hultzsich, Barbara Penner, Nina Vollenbröker

Architecture &: is a termly interdisciplinary seminar providing opportunities for staff and student researchers within the Bartlett School of Architecture to initiate research conversations at interdisciplinary crossings. In the fifth of the series we bring together artists, anthropologists, architects, geographers, historians and literary critics to explore how travel conceives, represents and defines place; how it relates to questions of identity and location; how it produces specific forms of historical evidence and of representation; and how, more generally, it serves as a unique research context for diverse disciplines.

<http://www.bartlett.ucl.ac.uk/architecture/events/seminars/seminars.htm>